Celebrating the tercentenary of Jonathan Swift becoming Dean of Saint Patrick's Cathedral

Swift Walking Tours

A themed walking tour

Take a tour with Pat Liddy Walking Tours and learn more about Jonathan Swift's connections to Dublin.
More information can be found at www.walkingtours.ie.

When:	Thursday 6th and 13th June at 2.00 pm Saturday 8th and 15th June at 10.00 am
Departure:	Outside the main Tourist Information Centre on Suffolk Street
Duration:	2.5 hours
Cost:	€10 per person/€8 for students and seniors (includes a visit into Saint Patrick's Cathedral)

Swift's Time Capsule

Survivals from the World of Jonathan Swift

This exhibition displays objects that belonged to Swift or were associated with his life and work as Dean of Saint Patrick's Cathedral.

Where:	Marsh's Library
When:	4th - 18th June
Cost:	Normal admission price of €2.50 (joint ticket to Marsh's and Saint Patrick's for €6.50 available for exhibition duration)

Dublin City Council
Comhairle Cathrach Bhaile Átha Cliath

Let's Walk & Talk: Jonathan Swift - A Giant in a Literary Lilliput

A FREE themed walking tour

Join acclaimed historian Pat Liddy, as we celebrate the tercentenary of Jonathan Swift becoming Dean of Saint Patrick's Cathedral with a tour taking in many places associated with this great man. En-route, you'll hear about his work, life and times in a Dublin that was divided by the excesses of wealth and poverty.
This tour takes place as part of Dublin City Council's community initiative, Let's Walk & Talk.

When:	14th June, 4.00pm
Start:	Bell Tower, Main Square, Trinity College, Dublin 2
Finish:	St Patrick's Cathedral

Swift in his Own Words

An evening of music, recitals and readings

The story of Swift's time at the Cathedral told through readings from his work / correspondence with music and images from the period. Featuring Eamonn Lalor, Rev. Adrian Empey, June Rogers and the DIT Irish Traditional music ensemble.

Where:	St. Patrick's Cathedral
When:	14th June, 6.00pm
Cost:	Free of charge

Choral Evensong

Festival Evensong to commemorate the 300th anniversary of Jonathan Swift's installation as Dean on Sunday 13th June 1713. The Most Reverend R.L. Clarke Archbishop of Armagh, will preach at the Service.

Where:	St. Patrick's Cathedral
When:	16th June, 3.15pm
Cost:	Free of charge

www.stpatrickscathedral.ie